

www.data-innaginginist.com/slides/user2018

CALEYDO

The Washington post

San Francisco Chronicle

Wednesday, June 9, 2010 | Edition: Bay Area | Price: $5.00

A death-penalty ruling to watch

State court decision could freeze executions

By Mike Specia

The California Supreme Court will hear arguments today on whether the state's death penalty is constitutional. The court's decision could freeze executions for years.

The court's decision could freeze executions for years. The court's decision could freeze executions for years.

The court's decision could freeze executions for years. The court's decision could freeze executions for years.

STILL ON TRACK AS COACH IS BACK

Her's surprise return a boost for Warriors before latest win

The Warriors' surprise return to the court as a coach was a boost for the team before their latest win.

S.P. seeks data for business licenses

Co-working space missed for info on location

By Patrick Lee

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors is seeking data for business licenses. The board is seeking data for business licenses.

nature

THE INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF SCIENCE

GROWTH FACTOR

Structurally pure single-walled carbon nanotubes, isolated from a rationally designed and cap

PAGE 543

ARTICLE IN PRESS

DREAM
MACHINE

Building a quantum simulation of a solid-state system

PAGE 4

ARTICLE IN PRESS

ANTARCTIC MANIFESTO

A call to action for the world's scientists

PAGE 11

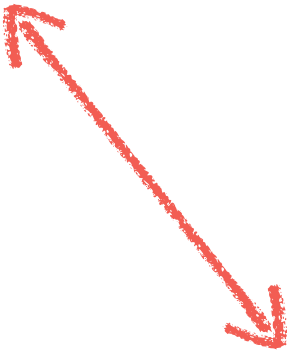

ARTICLE IN PRESS

MERCURY
RING

Structure of a quantum
entanglement
signature in a quantum
system

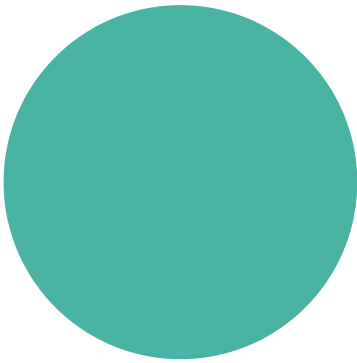

PAGE 12

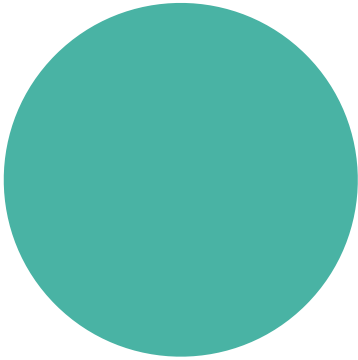

static

Interdive

A large teal circle serves as the background for the text.

Animated

ATTENTION

MOVING OBJECTS

CALLEO

San Francisco Chronicle

Wednesday, June 6, 2012 | Printed on demand paper | 4 pages | $5.00

A death-penalty ruling to watch

State court decision could restart executions

By Mike Sautter

The California Supreme Court today may rule whether the state's death penalty is constitutional. The court's decision could restart executions, which have been on hold since 2006.

Several legal analysts say the court's decision could restart executions, which have been on hold since 2006.

But even the Department of Justice, which has been working to get the state's death penalty law reinstated, says it will wait to see what the court decides.

NBA FIGHTS, GAMES | www.sfgate.com | www.chronicle.com

STILL ON TRACK AS COACH IS BACK

Kerr's surprise return a boost for Warriors before latest win

A surprise return by Steve Kerr, who left the Warriors to coach the San Antonio Spurs, helped the Warriors win their latest game.

S.F. seeks data for business licenses

Co-working space mined for information

By Kristin Hest

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors today approved a new law that will require co-working spaces to provide information about their members.

nature

ISSN 0028-280X

GROWTH FACTOR

Structurally join single-walled carbon nanotubes seeded from a rationally designed end cap

PAGE 284

REVIEW ARTICLE

DREAM MACHINE

Building a quantum of efficient computation

PAGE 19

REVIEW ARTICLE

ANTARCTIC MANIFESTO

A road map for research and conservation

PAGE 31

REVIEW ARTICLE

MERCURY RISING

Health of oceans and the impact of human activities

PAGE 35

EDITORIAL COMMENTARY

Science and the environment

PAGE 41

ISSN 0028-280X

0028-280X(200601)347:1;1-0

DOI: 10.1038/nature04500

© 2006 Nature Publishing Group

Printed in the United Kingdom

0028-280X(200601)347:1;1-0

0028-280X(200601)347:1;1-0

0028-280X(200601)347:1;1-0

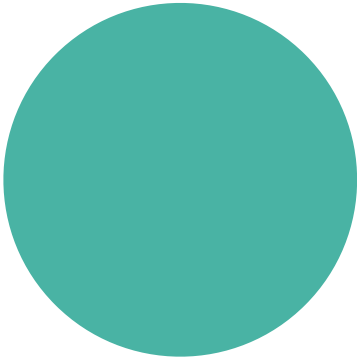

Antarctica

